Time Mastery Profile[®]

Helping People Maximize Their Time

Twelve ways to accomplish more — and enjoy work and life every day

Setting priorities and managing time effectively is basic to enhancing individual and organizational performance. The pressure to find innovative ways to achieve goals, keep abreast of the competition, respond quickly to customer needs, and enjoy life outside of work is increasingly intense in today's less structured, information-driven workplace. Meeting the daily challenges of managing professional and personal responsibilities requires a learning strategy designed to meet individual needs.

More Time in the Day

If you could reduce your staff's wasted time by just five minutes every hour, productivity would jump 8.3 percent! Efficiency levels would also rise as employees began to devote more time to critical tasks.

The advantages of efficient time management are significant:

- Employees can squeeze more tasks into every work day.
- Departments and teams can meet project deadlines more easily.
- Your organization can serve more customers without adding staff, equipment, or office space.
- Managers can spend more time pursuing opportunities — and less time struggling with paperwork or attending unproductive meetings.

Applications:

- Employee Development
- Personal Development
- Meeting Management
- Increased Organizational Effectiveness
- Reduced Stress
- Work/Life Balance

Application Tip:

Managing ourselves means learning new habits. To change your habits, you must first identify them. How do you spend your day? What takes up most of your time? Are you doing things that are important? By identifying these things, you can begin to maximize your time and understand what to let go. Integrating the Time Mastery Profile[®] into FranklinCovey[®] training programs provides a foundation for understanding your habits and identifying what is important.
