One way to determine ideal strategy planning is to look at your data – which we all know tends to sound easier than it really is. That's where the Performance Analysis Program from The Intelitech Group comes in. We're offering, exclusively to Ontario Systems customers, a courtesy data analysis using your actual performance data. By running the data through our machine learning models, we'll provide you with:

- Propensity to pay models based on your unique data
- A breakdown of how your inventory distributes on that propensity model
- Four areas of like performing inventory to cater workflow strategies for maximum ROI
- Which portion of your inventory brings in the most dollars, and why
- Quality analysis of your contact data (address and phone quality)
- Compliance and risk analysis with bankruptcy and deceased matches and trends
- Where your optimal effort should be

Plus, we are offering industry benchmarking to help you understand how your performance compares to similar peers in ARM.
